ORDER ON DEFENDANT'S MOTION
TO SET ASIDE JUDGMENT, REQUEST FOR EVIDENTIARY HEARING,
MOTION TO DISQUALIFY DISTRICT
JUDGE, AND MOTION TO APPOINT
COUNSEL

Docket Nos. 201, 202, 203, 209, 212, 215,
222, 223

I. INTRODUCTION

In 2011, following two separate jury trials, Defendant Harjit Bhambra was convicted of filing false statements related to naturalization, filing false statements, unlawfully obtaining naturalization and citizenship, preparing false tax returns, and filing false tax returns. Docket Nos. 175, 180 at 3; United States v. Bhambra, 505 Fed. Appx. 670 (9th Cir. 2013). Judgment was entered on October 17, 2011. Docket No. 175. Bhambra appealed his convictions to the Ninth Circuit, who summarily affirmed and later denied his en banc request. Bhambra, 505 Fed. Appx. at 670; Docket No. 196. Bhambra then appealed to the United States Supreme Court, who denied certiorari on June 24, 2013. Docket Nos. 177, 195, 199.

Roughly three years later, Bhambra, proceeding pro se, filed the present motions. Docket Nos. 202 (Mot. to Set Aside Judgment), 209 (Req. for Evidentiary Hearing), 212 (Mot. to Disqualify), 215 (Mot. to Appoint Counsel). Bhambra moves to (1) set aside his convictions pursuant to Rule 60 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure for fraud on the Court; (2) disqualify

1 Judge Illston,<sup>1</sup> and (3) have counsel appointed to assist him. He also requests an evidentiary
 2 hearing. Id. For the following reasons, Bhambra's motions are DENIED.

3 II. BACKGROUND

4 All of Bhambra's motions appear to take issue with comments he alleges took place during
 5 his sentencing hearing before Judge Illston. See Mot. to Set Aside Judgment at 2; 203 (Mem. ISO
 6 Mot. to Set Aside Judgment) at 14; Req. for Evidentiary Hearing at 4; Mot. to Appoint Counsel at 7 2. Bhambra alleges that on October 11, 2011, Judge Illston stated, "Don't you ever come back to 8 this Court for any reason, we do not want to see you back here ever . . ." See Docket. No. 206
 9 (Bhambra Sworn Affidavit) at 2-3. Bhambra alleges that after "getting sober" the undersigned
 10 "deleted [this] hateful statement from the official court record" and caused the hearing transcript to 11 reflect that the hearing occurred on October 12, 2011. See Mot. to Set Aside Judgment at 2, 4;
 12 Mem. ISO Mot. to Set Aside Judgment at 3-4, 7; Req. for Evidentiary Hearing at 4-5; Mot. to 13 Disqualify at 2. The federal prosecutor and Bhambra's court-appointed attorney then "conspired"
 14 to present these false court records to the Ninth Circuit, resulting in the Ninth Circuit "deliver[ing]
 15 a total miscarriage of justice" for Bhambra. Mot. to Set Aside Judgment at 4.

16 Bhambra apparently believes that this behavior intimidated him into believing he was 17 barred from ever accessing the justice system and then "obstructing the federal proceedings
 18 record," constituting fraud upon the Court that warrants a reversal of his convictions.<sup>2</sup> See Mem.
 19 ISO Mot. to Set Aside Judgment at 2; Mot. to Disqualify at 2. He likewise moves the Court to 20 hold an evidentiary hearing on this matter and to appoint him counsel to advance his allegations.

21 III. DISCUSSION

22 Bhambra moves the Court for relief pursuant to Rule 60 of the Federal Rules of Civil 23 Procedure, which, as applicable to this set of facts, provides: "On motion and just terms, the court
 24 may relieve a party . . . from a final judgment, order, or proceeding for . . . any other reason [than

 26 <sup>1</sup> Judge Illston subsequently recused herself, see Docket No. 219, making this request moot.

27 <sup>2</sup> The Court observes that this "intimidation" certainly did not prevent Bhambra from appealing
 28 his conviction to the Ninth Circuit, seeking an en banc rehearing, or appealing to the Supreme Court, nor did it prevent Bhambra from filing the instant myriad of motions challenging his conviction.

1 those listed] that justifies relief.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b)(6). Bhambra specifically cites Federal
2 Civil Rule 60(d)(3), which provides: “This rule does not limit a court’s power to . . . set aside a
3 judgment for fraud on the court.”

4 As an initial matter, Bhambra’s Rule 60(b) motion is untimely. “[A] Rule 60(b)(6) motion
5 ‘must be made within a reasonable time,’ Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(c)(1), and Rule 60(b)(6) relief ‘is 6 available only where extraordinary circumstances prevented a litigant from seeking earlier, more
7 timely relief.’ Johnson v. CFS II, Inc., 628 Fed. Appx. 505, 505 (9th Cir. 2016) (quoting United 8 States v. Alpine Land & Reservoir Co., 984 F.2d 1047, 1049 (9th Cir. 1993)); see also *Alvarez-
9 Machain v. United States*, CV 93-4072 SVW (SHx), 2004 U.S. Dis. LEXIS 28528, at *11 (C.D.
10 Cal. Oct. 26, 2004) (“Under prevailing Ninth Circuit doctrine, Rule 60(b)(6) is to be utilized only 11 where extraordinary circumstances prevented a party from taking timely action to prevent or 12 correct an erroneous judgment”). Here, Bhambra waited over four years to file his Rule 60(b)
13 motion, despite the minute order and transcript for the hearing (which Bhambra relies upon as 14 “evidence” of the alleged fraud) having been available since October and November 2011.
15 Having reviewed Bhambra’s voluminous filings -- including a 93-page memorandum of points
16 and authorities -- the Court has not found any explanation for what “extraordinary circumstances,” 17 if any, prevented him from seeking timely relief.

18 The Court also finds that there is no showing that “fraud on the court” was committed.
19 The Ninth Circuit has directed that the term “fraud on the court” “should be read narrowly, in the 20 interest of preserving the finality of judgments.” Toscano v. Commissioner, 441 F.2d 930, 934
21 (9th Cir. 1971). “Simply put, not all fraud is fraud on the court. To constitute fraud on the court,
22 the alleged misconduct must “harm[ ] the integrity of the judicial process.” In re Levander, 180
23 F.3d 1114, 1119 (9th Cir. 1999) (citations omitted). In order to determine whether there has been 24 fraud on the court, this circuit has reasoned that the conduct alleged should “embrace only that 25 species of fraud which does or attempts to, defile the court itself, or is a fraud perpetrated by 26 officers of the court so that the judicial machinery cannot perform in the usual manner its impartial
27 task of adjudging cases that are presented for adjudication.” Id. (citations omitted).

28 Here, Bhambra does not allege fraudulent conduct that imperils the integrity of the

1 judgment rendered against him. Bhambra was already convicted by a jury prior to the allegedly
2 offending sentencing comments being made. In other words, he attempts to attack his conviction
3 by relying on statements made after the jury verdict was entered. To the extent he contends that
4 the “fraudulent” hearing transcript affected the Ninth Circuit proceedings, the Ninth Circuit’s
5 denial of Bhambra’s appeal of his conviction was based on the merits of the case, not the 6 sentencing proceedings. Therefore, he has not demonstrated why the sentencing proceedings
7 would have changed the Ninth Circuit’s decision.

8 This, of course, assumes that Bhambra has alleged fraudulent conduct that suggests that the 9 judicial machinery was somehow thwarted; he has not. It is a serious matter to accuse a federal 10 judge of fraud on the court, and the evidence presented here is unpersuasive. The primary
11 evidence of “fraud” relied upon by Bhambra is that the minute order incorrectly states that the 12 sentencing hearing occurred on October 12, 2011 (rather than October 11, 2011), while the 13 transcript of proceedings correctly states the date of October 11, 2011 but lists it as a Wednesday
14 instead of a Thursday. See Docket Nos. 173, 180 (Oct. 11, 2011 Trans.). It is clear from the 15 record that the sentencing hearing occurred on October 11, 2011. These typos do not in any way
16 evidence a larger plot to defraud the court, or are related to Bhambra’s allegations that Judge
17 Illston made the statements he claims she made.<sup>3</sup> Even if Judge Illston had made the alleged

21 <sup>3</sup> Bhambra offers his own sworn affidavit, as well as those of Surjit Ojla and Lakhbir Bhambra, 22 recounting the offending statements. Docket Nos. 204, 205, 206. The Court has reviewed the 23 reporter’s transcript and no such statements appear; although the Court did say, “I understand that 24 [Mr. Bhambra] continues to contact the Court in ways that are utterly inappropriate, and I would 25 recommend that you [advise] him not to do that.” Oct. 11, 2011 Trans. at 19.

26 It has long been established that a reporter’s transcript is presumed to be correct. Abatino v.
27 United States, 750 F.2d 1442, 1445 (9th Cir. 1985); United States v. Hoffman, 607 F.2d 280, 286
28 (9th Cir. 1979); Soo Hoo Hung v. Nagle, 3 F.2d 267, 268 (9th Cir. 1925); Gingrich v. Oberhauser,
305 F. Supp. 738, 741 (C.D. Cal. 1969); see also People v. Kronemyer, 189 Cal. App. 3d 314, 358-59 (1987) (characterizing reporter’s transcript as “presumptively correct”). The party seeking to rebut this presumption must present a reason why a court should suspect an inaccuracy. Norris
v. Schotten, 146 F.3d 314, 333 (6th Cir. 1998) (holding that a petitioner’s speculation is insufficient to question trial transcripts as inaccurate); Kronemyer, 189 Cal. App. 3d at 358-59.
Bhambra has failed to satisfy this burden.

1 comments, it is frankly every trial judge's wish that a criminal defendant reform his ways and not
2 appear before that judge in a future, similar proceeding.

3 IV. CONCLUSION

4 For the reasons stated above, the Court DENIES Bhambra's various motions.<sup>4</sup>

27
28 <sup>4</sup> The Court is in receipt of Bhambra's "First Set of Requests for Admission," directed at Judge
Illston. Because the Court denies all of Bhambra's motions and requests, it will strike these Requests for Admission.
